Uses Oath As Doctor In Defense

Trial Of Army Medico Resumes

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP)—The defense continues its efforts today to show that Army Capt. Howard B. Levy would have violated the Hippocratic oath by training Special Forces aidmen for service in Vietnam.

Attorneys for the 30-year-old Brooklyn, N.Y., dermatologist contend that his medical privilege and ethics take precedence over military orders.

Levy, a physician at Ft. Jackson Army Hospital, is charged with promoting disloyalty and with disobeying orders to train Green Beret medics in the basics of diagnosing and treating skin disease.

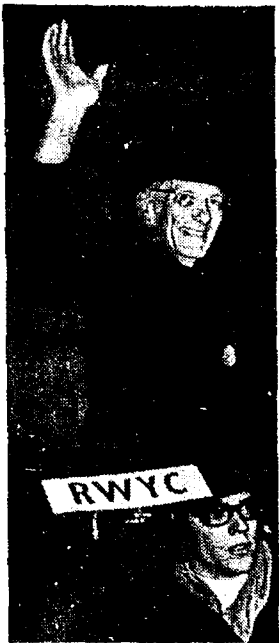

Last Friday, the Hippocratic oath was read at Levy's court-martial in an attempt to prove that physicians have the right to disobey an order if, in their judgment, it would violate conscience or ethics.

Levy's first major defense, a war crimes charge against Special Forces medics, was thrown out last week.

If convicted, Levy could receive up to 11 years imprisonment.

Heightens Crisis In Mideast

*1 Wounded In Short Israeli,
Arab Exchange*

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Arab mortar and machine guns from the Gaza Strip fired today on farmers and soldiers inside Israel and the Israelis answered with machine guns, an Israeli army spokesman said in Tel Aviv. He reported one Israeli was slightly wounded.

While the firing ceased after 40 minutes, the incident served to heighten the feeling of imminent crisis in the Middle East.

The feeling of imminence grew Sunday when President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt announced he would never retreat from his blockade of Israeli shipping in the Gulf of Aqaba. Israel's premier, Levi Eshkol, declared his army is ready to fight aggression, including a blockade.

The firing on Israeli soil from Gaza apparently was begun by Egyptian irregulars and members of the Palestine Liberation Army. They are believed manning the front lines with Egyptian regulars farther back.

It was the first such incident reported along the Gaza Strip since the U.N. Emergency Force pulled out of frontier positions last week at Egypt's request.

FIRE AT WORKERS

The crisis originally was brought on by a series of border raids on the Syrian front and by Israel's threat to retaliate against Syria. Syria is an ally of Egypt, which promptly sent men and armor to the frontier and asked the U.N. peace-keeping force to withdraw.

Syria's chief of state, Nur-dine el-Atassi, flew to Moscow to discuss with Communist party Secretary Leonid I. Brezhnev and Premier Alexi N. Kosygin.

Nasser warned at a news conference Sunday he will close the Suez Canal to any nation backing Israel in case of war with the Arabs.

DEAN FORBURGER

HAROLD VAN KAMPEN

New Manager Of Dairy Firm

Berrien Milk Producers Reveal Change

Dean Forburger, 50, ice cream supervisor for the past 12 years at Producers Creamery in Benton township, has been appointed general manager to replace Harold Van Kampen, who resigned Saturday.

The charge was announced today by Wade Shuler, president of the board of the Berrien County Milk Producers Association, which owns Producers.

Van Kampen, general manager at Producers for the past 14 years, submitted his resignation Saturday, effective immediately. Forburger, who has been associated with dairy work continuously since 1934 except for World War II service, was appointed general manager immediately by a unanimous vote of directors.

THREE AREA PLANTS

The general managership covers the Producers plant in Benton township, United Dairies in Niles, and Action Dairy in Watervliet.

Forburger and his wife, Dorothy, live at 981 Columbus avenue in Benton Harbor. They have two children — Dean, Jr., 23, an Army second lieutenant stationed with Air Defense Command forces in Phoenix, Ariz., and Gay, 20, a third-year student at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor.

Forburger is a member of the Methodist Peace Temple in Benton Harbor, Benton Harbor Elks Lodge No. 644, Benton Harbor Exchange club, Berrien Hills Country club, and is a lieutenant colonel in the Air Force reserves. He is past president of the Berrien County Cancer Society.

Three Die On Berrien Highways

Allegan County Adds Two To Holiday Toll

Berrien and Allegan counties added five to the Memorial holiday weekend death toll in Michigan. The state's traffic fatality total climbed to 29 early this morning, as the weekend moved past the mid-point.

A 26-year-old Buchanan man, Charles W. Hendrix, was the latest victim. Hendrix, of Boylo Lake road, died early this morning in a head-on collision on US-12 at Dayton road.

Saturday night, 51-year-old Carl Rose, a farm, address unknown, was killed when struck by a car as he walked across Red Arrow highway near Watervliet.

The Berrien county toll opened Friday night when a South Bend man, Rex Blair, 43, died in a car-train crash near the Indiana state line south of Niles.

TWO IN ALLEGAN

Allegan county recorded its eighth and ninth traffic deaths of the year Saturday in a two-car crash east of Allegan. Killed were Alex Hernandez, 35, route 1, Hamilton, and his daughter Diana, 10.

Another Berrien county resident, Kenneth Titus, 21, of 193 Ferry street, Niles, was killed in a pickup-truck crash in Punxsutawney, Pa., Saturday. Police said Titus was in a car that side-swiped a trailer and then veered into the path of the pickup. He is survived by his wife, Lynn, and a son, Chris.

The three weekend deaths in Berrien county brought the county's road toll to 21 for the year, compared with 12 on the same date in 1966.

BUCHANAN CRASH

Niles state police said Hendrix was a passenger in a car driven by Arthur Thompson, 34, of 1365 Niles — Buchanan road. Thompson is listed in critical condition at Memorial hospital in South Bend. He suffered broken ribs and fractures of the

CENTER OF DISSIDENCE

Communist Mortars, Terrorists Hit Hue

SAIGON (AP) — Communist guerrillas scattered mortar shells over the ancient Buddhist city of Hue early today and terrorists followed up by bombing a downtown hotel housing members of the Polish-Indian-Canadian control commission.

The mortar and terror attacks killed four persons and wounded 17, including a driver for the International Control Commission. Although the hotel was badly damaged and partly burned, the 10 commission members staying there escaped unhurt. No Americans were hurt.

The mortar attacks hit the U.S. advisory compound in the city, the adjoining South Vietnamese sector headquarters, a South Vietnamese officers' club and a residential area. The mortars also cut a line used by the Voice of America transmitter outside the city but broadcasts were not interrupted.

Hue, the old imperial capital of Vietnam, has about 120,000 people and is a traditional center of dissidence in the northern provinces of Vietnam, which have been under extreme Communist pressure. It is also crisscrossed with refugees, many of them Viet Cong sympathizers.

The casualties included 16 civilians wounded. The others were South Vietnamese troops or policemen. Elsewhere ground action was generally light and air strikes against North Vietnam were limited by cloudy weather and rains.

The Hue attack was made a few hours before Marine Lt. Gen. Lewis Walt, U.S. commander of the northern sector, said he needed more troops to protect the populated areas.

Walt said he didn't care if the troops were American, North Korean or South Vietnamese, but they were needed to control certain spots while his Marines took care of the hard-core guerrillas and North Vietnamese regulars.

B.H. SCHOOL BOND ISSUE GAINING SUPPORT

Lack Of Dentists In Area Parallels Nation

Death, illness, retirement and a federal program have depleted the ranks of practicing Twin Cities area dentists by at least four in recent months, but the shortage is apparently no worse than in most sections of the country.

"We could use more dentists," outgoing Tri-county Dental Association President Dr. Henry Bolline said, but there are areas where the problem is much worse. The dentist shortage seems to be a nationwide problem.

One new dentist is scheduled to set up practice in St. Joseph next July, he added, and there are rumors that two more may be on the way.

The local shortage was pointed up recently by the death of Dr. Glenn Ireland of St. Joseph and retirement of Dr. Donald Yonker, Benton Harbor. Another St. Joseph dentist has been ill for several months, and Dr. Harzel Taylor, Benton Harbor, is now in charge of a dental program for examination and treatment of Benton Harbor school children.

Several dentists indicated they felt the area was short of practicing dentists but the Twin Cities area is not as bad off as many sections of the state.

There is a growing demand for dental services and all areas are hard-pressed to keep pace, they said. Now that dentistry is outgrowing its "pain image" more people are seeking dental services.

According to statistics in the Michigan State Dental Association journal, Berrien county ranks slightly below the state average in ratio of dentists to population. The association's count showed 56 practicing general practitioners in the dental field for a population 158,400. The ratio was one dentist for 2,828 residents. This compares with the statewide average of a dentist for every 2,410 persons.

Ideally, the association's study stated, Berrien county could use 23 new dentists, but Dr. Bolline indicated that few if any areas reach the ideal level. In 114 of 119 counties throughout the state, the study showed ratios from one dentist per 17,200 persons in Alger county to a dentist for every 1,234 persons in Washtenaw county.

Election To Be Held On June 6

Stacey, Pears, Local University Women Back Plan

Support of a proposed $9,725,000 bonding program for the Benton Harbor school district has come from two area state representatives and the Benton Harbor-St. Joseph branch of the American Association of University Women.

Voters on June 6 will ballot on the bonding issue, aimed at construction and renovation of classroom buildings in the district. They also will ballot June 6 on a 4.25-cent mill tax hike for three years to help operate the district.

State Reps. Lionel Stacey, Fairplain, and Don R. Pears, Buchanan, both Republicans, sent letters to Richard Seagrave, who heads a district committee which is informing the public of classroom needs. Seagrave also received a letter of support from Mrs. L.K. Sosey, president of the Twin Cities university women's group.

Stacey, former Fairplain junior high principal, observed that education is everyone's business, even though it requires the majority of the local tax intake to be operated efficiently.

He wrote: "To assure our future, we must face our responsibility today. Education is everyone's job and even though it is about 75 per cent of our local taxes, education is our best investment on dollars spent for your greatest return on future needs."

"I hope each and every one of you voters can and will support the upcoming school millage."

Pears, who does not reside in the Benton Harbor school district, commented that he favors the question of school bonding "to the extent that such bonding represents the very minimum needs to adequately provide quality education for the children to be served in 'affected schools.'"

School officials, after more than a year of planning, pegged the $9,725,000 proposal as the minimum amount to provide adequate education and alleviate overcrowding. The final figure has been pared from an envisioned plan which would have cost more than $20 million.

REPRESENTATIVE STACEY

REPRESENTATIVE PEARS

PEARS' VIEW

Pears, in his letter, stated: "I can and do say to you (Seagrave) that I wholeheartedly endorse any and all reasonable school programs which will provide a better education for our public school children. I am also keenly aware, as I am sure you are, that over a period of years, there has been tremendous waste in our public schools and colleges, just as there also has been in government. This, to some extent, seemingly, has become part of our modern way of life, and no one seems to have the complete answer for a method of correcting it."

The university women stated their awareness of overcrowding in the district's schools, as they approved the bonding plan. MRS. SOSEY

Mrs. Sosey wrote: "We heartily endorse the school building program recommended by the school board of the Benton Harbor school district."

"We are aware of the pressing need for additional housing to relieve the serious problem of overcrowding in the present school buildings and do support the question of bonding, to be voted on by the property owners of the Benton Harbor school district on June 6, 1967."

The issue, if approved, would enable renovation and addition to the present senior high school, the construction of two junior high schools, classroom additions to Sodus and Seely McCord schools, a service and warehouse center and site acquisitions.

MINOR BLAZES

Firemen Are Kept Busy In Benton

Benton township firemen responded to several fires over the weekend. None caused much damage.

Saturday Station Two responded to two grass fires believed to have been started by a train. The fires were located near the railroad tracks on Eaman road and Riverside terrace. A third grass fire at 200 Emery avenue was believed to have been started by children according to Fire Chief Ken Kraiger.

Sunday, firemen from Station One responded to a brush fire at Blue Creek road at 9:40 a.m. They were recalled to the scene at 8:21 p.m., when sparks began burning again. Firemen said the cause of the fire was unknown.

Firemen from Station One also were called to a fire at Collins avenue and North Shore drive. The carburetor in a car driven by Lavern Branch of 742 LaSalle avenue had caught on fire.

Station Three firemen responded to a fire call at the Howard Radio & TV repair shop at 1442 East Napier avenue. A fire believed to have been started by a shorted wire caused no damage, firemen said.

Don't Use Wood Chips For Fill

B.H. Fire Chief Issues Warning

Benton Harbor Fire Chief Maurice Shepherson criticized the practice of filling park driveway holes with wood shavings after his department Saturday afternoon extinguished a blaze covering an area of about ten by 20 feet in a driveway in Hall park.

Firemen, called to the scene about 3 p.m., said that somehow, shavings used to fill holes in the driveway had become ignited.

Shepherson reported that the use of wood to fill is dangerous, especially in dry weather when a discarded cigarette could cause a blaze.

Firemen Sunday night extinguished a blaze in the motor of an auto, operated at Paw Paw and Main street by Dennis Bell of 1626 Territorial road, Benton township.

Mrs. Charlene Dockins Saturday afternoon called firemen to her home at 788 Thresher avenue, when a pinhole leak was detected in a gas line near the meter. No damage resulted and the gas was turned off, pending repairs, firemen reported.

Increase Your Word Knowledge

Test How Well You Read News

One way of increasing your vocabulary is by reading a dictionary.

An easier — and more interesting — way is by reading your newspaper which records new words that are invented every day and won't be recorded in the dictionary until the next edition.

You also get the words in context when you read the newspaper; a more definitive understanding of the word results.

The weekly News Quiz, which appears on page 20 this week, includes a section on words in the news each week. These aren't always newly coined words, but they are words that the reader should be acquainted with to fully understand news events.

Can you define: truce, aggression, casualty, patrol reprisal? These and other questions can be found in the News Quiz on page 20, which is brought to you by this newspaper and Visual Education Consultants, Inc., in cooperation with an area firm — Brown's Pharmacy. The quizzes are intended to make regular newspaper reading a habit.

Arrested As Drunk Driver

A 31-year-old Benton Harbor area woman, Annie Belle Shanklin, route 1, was arrested by Berrien sheriff's deputies Saturday on a charge of driving while under the influence of intoxicants.

She was arrested when Deputy Ron Weber stopped her car on Yore avenue in Sodus township. Weber said she almost ran the patrol car off the road, and other motorists reported she had forced several cars into the ditch.

Two passengers in the car were charged with drunk and disorderly conduct.

Colorado Tour For BH Scouts In Early July

Points Out Needs Of Community

Adult Education Student's Essay

Students in adult basic education classes don't receive letter grades. If they did Mrs. Jessie Jimerson would get an "A" for her concise essay on "What My Community Needs Most."

Mrs. Jimerson attends classes at Benton Harbor junior high. She is very determined to make progress and further her education," said Miss Natalie Smith, teacher of the class which stresses basic language skills.

Before adult education, Mrs. Jimerson's formal schooling had ended at the sixth grade. She resides at 444 Washington street, Benton Harbor.

Miss Smith said adult education will continue in the summer starting June 19, on a once-a-week basis, Mondays, 7-9 p.m. She also noted that if the suggestions in Mrs. Jimerson's essay were carried out a better community would result.

"We need better housing for the lower class of people. We need better recreation centers for our young people. We need more and better schools. I think if all these things are taken under consideration our community will be a better place to live in," Mrs. Jimerson wrote.

Man Held In Shooting

Floyd Lee Slaughter, 28, of Chicago, demanded examination when arraigned Saturday afternoon before Benton Harbor Municipal Judge Elizabeth Forhan on charges of assault with a dangerous weapon and carrying a concealed weapon. Bonds, totaling $1,500, were not posted, Judge Forhan said.

JUDGE RAPS HIGH COURT'S JUVENILE RULING

BH Girl Is Selected Miss Cass County

CASS COUNTY CROWN: Susan Tietz receives her crown as Miss Cass County Saturday night from Nancy Ackert, last year's Miss Michigan. Miss Tietz, a 5 foot 7 Benton Harbor beauty, won over a field of eight other girls Saturday in a Jaycee-sponsored contest at Dowagiac. She is 20 years old.

Eligible For Michigan Pageant

Beauty Contest Held At Dowagiac

DOWAGIAC — "Oh — my feet are on the ground now but then, I was away off on Cloud Number Nine!"

This was Susan Marie Tietz's comment today. On Saturday night at Dowagiac, she was named Miss Cass County, a preliminary to the Miss America contest.

The Benton Harbor girl stood slender, smiling, more than a bit nervous and very lovely as the judges considered their verdict.

Their decision was announced. As it dawned on the 20-year-old Benton Harbor girl, she went into her gloved hands. The other eight contestants, some weeping too, clustered around the brown-eyed girl, hugging her.

B.H. WINNER

Miss Tietz, daughter of Mrs. Robert Tietz, 571 South Elmo drive, Fairplain, and the late Robert Tietz, won the Miss Benton Harbor contest of 1966.

Winning of the Cass county event makes her eligible for the Miss Michigan pageant later this year, a road that could lead to the Miss America competition in Atlantic City, N.J.

The nine competitors in the Cass county judging were rated in three categories: talent, bathing suit and evening gown.

The judges then selected three semi-finalists: second runner-up was Sherry Anne Mosher, a lovely 20-year-old from Dowagiac. First runner-up was Pamela Sue Dodson, a blue-eyed Edwardsburg girl.

Miss Dodson was also honored by her sister-competitors as "Miss Congeniality," a tribute to her qualities of friendliness, helpfulness and sincerity.

Miss Tietz won a scholarship in the Dowagiac event.

SEEKS COLLEGE DEGREE

"I'd like to finish my education," she said. A graduate of St. John's Catholic high school, Benton Harbor, Miss Tietz is completing work at Lake Michigan college and plans to enter Nazareth college, Kalamazoo, as a junior this fall.

Judges in the Cass county event were Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Beitel, (Beitel is president of the Miss Michigan pageant); D. C. Kelley, director of scholarships for Miss Michigan; Ginger Sarka, director of the Patricia Stevens Modeling and Charm School; and Glenn Leatherman, member of the Miss Michigan Board of Directors.

Other competitors were Ruth Ann Staley Dowagiac; Pearl Bennett, 18, Vandalia; Mary Sue Vitek, 17, Decatur; Cindy Lee Cade, 18, Hartford; Eileen Parrish, 18, Dowagiac; and Janie R. Eiland, 18, Dowagiac.

The event, which attracted Nancy Ackert, Miss Michigan of 1966 in the Miss America contest and Sylvia Harp, Miss Cass County of 1966 was sponsored by the Dowagiac Junior Chamber of Commerce.

WITHDRAW OFFER

FLINT (AP)—The Flint chapter of the Eagles has withdrawn its offer to put a 2,500-pound granite tablet of the Ten Commandments on the City Hall lawn. The withdrawal came after the city agreed with a claim by the American Civil Liberties Union that the tablet on city property would violate separation of church and state.

Scholle Lashes State Tax Plan

Calls It Unfair To Man On The Bottom

By JIM DONAHUE
South Haven Bureau

SOUTH HAVEN—Michigan's AFL-CIO boss August (Gus) Scholle hit at what he called the "inequities" of Michigan's proposed tax reform bill during a talk before some 170 union representatives ending a week-long conference at Fidelman's resort.

Scholle blasted the proposed "flat state income tax," of 2 1/2 per cent because he said it would be unfair to the average working man "at the bottom of the ladder."

"A flat rate income tax is not a flat rate on cost to every individual," said Scholle. "The guy at the bottom of the ladder who has no exemptions under state tax laws pays the whole tax." But he said those persons in the upper income bracket may deduct what they pay to federal income taxes from state coffers.

"The more money you make, as long as we have a federal graduated tax, the less percentage of taxable income you will have to pay to the state," he said. "This makes the state flat rate tax one which works in reverse to the federal tax system. The guy with the lowest income pays the most and the guy with the biggest income pays the least."

Scholle also criticized the attempts by the state industrial leaders to kill the proposed 5 1/2 per cent corporate income tax. He referred to them as "corporate capitalist pigs" who have bought the Michigan Republican party "lock, stock and barrel." "When those corporate pigs put their money into something, they expect a profit in return. When they buy politicians, they expect these politicians to be putting money back into their own coffers. And the only way for them to do this is to take more money out of your (labor's) pockets and give it to industry."

"They will do this over my dead body," Scholle said. He suggested that a more equitable method of raising funds for the state would be to raise corporate profit tax to 11 per cent, or even 20 per cent.

The AFL-CIO president said he agreed that Michigan needs more revenue. "But if we are going to raise taxes, let's all go forth and help out."

"Since George Romney has been in office, industry has had three bills passed that saves it tax money. And now these pigs want to put the whole burden on the workman's pay check. Well I am in Lansing these days raising a lot of hell about that," he said.

"Romney is always picking me out as a guy who represents a special interest group," Scholle went on. "Well I am not trying to sell any commodity. I am representing the special interests of the men of labor and their wives and children, and that is all," he said.

Lange Says Problems Not Solved

Rights Guarantee Could Slow Down Court Processes

By KEITH WOOD
Staff Writer

The entire philosophy in treatment of juvenile crime could be changed by the recent Supreme Court ruling on rights of juveniles in criminal-type cases, according to Berrien Probate Judge Ronald H. Lange.

The ruling, which provides juveniles with the same rights as adults in criminal-type proceedings, will not immediately change the mechanics of court procedure to a great extent, Judge Lange said, but could bring a shift in the approach to juvenile problems.

Carried to its logical conclusion, Judge Lange said, the ruling could mean juvenile offenders may someday be treated in almost the same way as adult criminals.

DANGER CITED

It will definitely mean new expenses and more formal procedures, and carries the danger that juvenile court could someday become the scene of adversary-type proceeding as in adult court. The current approach, which attempts to aid juveniles no matter what type of trouble they have, could suffer. A juvenile case could become a battle between attorneys, rather than a pure search for solutions to problems.

Those not disputing the ruling, Judge Lange indicated it may be incompatible with the most practical methods of handling juveniles. It's a situation where "a bad case could lead to bad law," he said. The ruling was based on an Arizona case in which a youth was, on the surface at least, railroaded through lack of constitutional safeguards.

This problem was foreseen in Michigan and the state juvenile judges association appointed a committee last year to study it. Rights of youths are already carefully protected, but in a less formal way than will be required under the new ruling.

The Supreme Court decision, Judge Lange said, left many practical problems unresolved. Its exact effect is hard to predict this early in the game, he said, and judging from past history it may be years before another case is brought up that will spell out the answers.

WILL BE OBEYED
Despite the fact that the ruling does not give solutions to many problems it will create, it is the law of the land, and Judge Lange said it will be obeyed in Berrien probate court.

First step will be to provide written outlines of constitutional rights that will give parents of all youths brought into court on criminal matters. A reporter must also be present to provide records of criminal-type proceedings, as required under the ruling.

The ruling will throw additional burdens on law enforcement agencies, as it takes juvenile officers out of the investigative field and makes them strictly a part of the dispositional court procedure. Previously police could make arrests on suspicion and then turn the case over to juvenile officer. Now all juveniles must be advised of rights immediately and cannot be held unless there are good grounds. Police must make complete investigations before referring the youth to juvenile officials.

The ruling may actually take some load off the shoulders of juvenile officers. Now juvenile officers not only review each case and recommend what disposition will be made, but do much of the police work. Judge Lange said the police work aspect will be removed when the court procedure is reorganized along lines necessitated by the ruling.

Even now juveniles are advised of their right to an attorney and provided with one if the court feels it is necessary. However, few youths will ask for an attorney on their own, Judge Lange said, and when one is appointed he usually acts as a guardian to protect rights of the youth, rather than as legal counsel.

TO SLOW PROCESS

With the Supreme Court's demand that records be kept of all criminal-type proceedings, Judge Lange said the court process will be slowed considerably. Publicity on the decision may create a trend among youths where all will ask for attorneys.

Attorneys themselves, knowing procedures are on record, will work somewhat slower, to make sure that the record clearly shows all rights of the youth were protected, Judge Lange added.

As attorneys are brought into more and more cases there will be scheduling problems between attorneys and the various courts. Judge Lange did not comment on whether or not an additional probate judge will be needed, but said Berrien is already the largest county in Michigan with only one probate judge.

Though mechanics of changes in court procedure are only now being worked out, Judge Lange said every effort will be made to see that standards in Berrien county are set high enough that they more than cover requirements of the ruling. Only time will tell what standards will be adopted on a state-wide basis, he added, but if ours are higher than needed it will be no problem to bring them back into line.

Cass Judge Orders Man Committed

Held In Rape Of Little Girl

CASSPOLIS — Richard Paul Hummel, 35, route 1, Constantine, has been declared a criminal sexual psychopath by Judge Arthur Anderson, Cass County circuit court judge, who ordered him committed to a state institution.

Hummel was arrested last December in connection with the rape of an eight-year-old Indian Lake area girl. He was arraigned on Dec. 5, 1966 before Justice Lee Taylor in Cassopolis, demanded examination and held in the Cass county jail in lieu of $10,000 bond.

A postponement of Hummel's trial was granted by the Van Buren circuit court in March upon a petition filed by his attorney, Victor Buchnel in order to secure psychiatric examination of the defendant.

Hummel has been confined in the Cass county jail since his arrest last December and Friday was taken to the Van Buren county circuit court for the final decision by Judge Anderson.

Health-O-Rama Is Visited By Over 2,000 On Weekend

Thanks to a heavy turnout on Sunday afternoon, nearly 1,000 persons received free multi-phasic testing at this weekend's Health-O-Rama.

Charles K. Heiman, Health-O-Rama general chairman, said that more than 500 persons were tested yesterday afternoon. From Friday evening through Sunday, a total of 969 persons were tested.

Health-O-Rama, held at Fairplain junior high school, was sponsored by United Community

Fund, the Berrien County Health department and Berrien County Medical society. Tests, offered by trained medical personnel, were in nine areas of health, including diabetes and heart disease.

Total attendance at the weekend event, Heiman said, came to more than 2,000 persons. In addition, some 1,500 high school and junior high school students guided tours on Thursday and Friday.

In addition to the multi-phasic testing program, Health-O-Rama featured some 30 educational displays from the American Medical association, American Dental association, and United Fund health agencies.

"Although we had a slow start on Friday and Saturday, our big crowds on Sunday turned Health-O-Rama into a complete success," Heiman said. "Much of the credit goes to a fine staff of volunteers who helped to make this event possible."

Other competitors were Ruth Ann Staley Dowagiac; Pearl Bennett, 18, Vandalia; Mary Sue Vitek, 17, Decatur; Cindy Lee Cade, 18, Hartford; Eileen Parrish, 18, Dowagiac; and Janie R. Eiland, 18, Dowagiac.

Freak Crash On Area Road Hurts Two

SOUTH HAVEN—Two persons were injured after the small German-made compact car in which they were riding struck a tire lost by a semi-trailer and overturned. South Haven State police reported.

The accident was reported to police at about 10 p.m. Saturday from a telephone that William Stiles, 47, of Grand Rapids had just used to report to his company, Grand Rapids Motor Express, that he had lost a tire from his rig.

Driver of the car, Eddie Polk, 19, of route 3, South Haven, was treated at South Haven community hospital for lacerations about his legs, and a passenger in the car, Anna Yvonne Baber, 16, of route 1, Covert was treated and released for back and side abrasions.

The car was traveling north on M-140, police said, when it struck the tire lost by the truck on the overpass bridge at 1.36 near South Haven. The impact threw the small car out of control, it flipped and landed on its top.

At the time of the accident, the trucker was reporting the loss of the tire from a service station on the north end of the bridge, police said.
